

MOUSE IN THE HOUSE

As the temperatures are dropping outside we have been getting a lot of calls for rodent control. Mice are by far the majority of our rodent calls. Mice are warm blooded animals and are now seeking shelter inside of homes and businesses from the harsh elements. They will enter structures through very small openings. Did you know that mice can enter structures with gaps and openings of ¼" in diameter or less?

This is why it is important to have your home or place of business professionally inspected for proper rodent exclusion.

WHAT WILL WE DO?

- Inspect foundation, eaves, soffit, attic, garage for potential rodent entry points
- Thoroughly inspect accessible areas of the interior of your home top to bottom for rodent activity
- Provide a detailed interior and exterior inspection report of our findings
- Provide recommendations for a rodent control exclusion service including:
  - Sealing small holes and potential rodent entry points
  - Humane rodent trapping and removal
  - Follow-up services
  - Apply your $45 inspection cost toward your exclusion service
